

HEAR THEM CALL OUT TO ME

By Connor Zemke

Lyrics By Jerzy

Program notes

This piece is largely about keeping loved ones with us in memory. Memories of loved ones throughout one's life can greatly impact a person in many ways, and through this piece, I wanted to create something to both praise the feeling of impactful positive memories and encourage one to look back on loved ones that may not still be here with us, but left their warmth and love for us to remember. The lyrics for this song are a poem written by a friend and fellow musician that has been adapted and edited into song.

Original Poem

The ones I love, they call to me
Hear them call out to me
Keep them in memory
Feel them with every beat

Guiding me by the hand
Teaching me how to dance
Giving me more than I asked

Lessons I learned from them
Tears that have crossed the brim
Love that's been left in my hands

And when the light seems to fade
When I can't find my way
When there's so much I can take

Hear them call out to me
Keep them in memory
Feel them with every beat

By Jerzy

Performance Notes

During phrases when the performers sing "ah," they must do it in a pulsating nature, increasing in volume until the end of the phrase. Whenever a performer is performing an "ah" they must join in on this pattern.
